DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

Note: claim 8 is not shown in any figure, as it combines multiple figures.

The following claim(s) are generic: Claims 1-2 are generic to figures 3 and 6-8.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the species of figure 6, discloses a special technical feature of at least a multiple contact switching supplying one output to said potential difference measuring portion as the voltage at one end of said current measurement resistance; the species of figure 7 discloses a special technical feature of at least a range switching portion having buffers with switches having output stages which can be connect/blocked in response to control signals and being respectively connected to the output sides of said plurality of current buffers with switches; the species of figure 8 discloses a special technical feature of at least a range switching portion comprising feedback operation amplifiers having inverted inputs to which are connected to the outputs of the same current buffers with switches, non-inverted inputs to which are supplied the voltage from said current power supply portion, and outputs to which are connected to the inputs of said current buffers with switches; the species of figure 3 discloses a special technical feature of at least a first resistance inserted between the output of said digital-to-analog controller and the inverted input of said operational amplifier; and the species of figure 5, discloses a special technical feature of at least a current buffer with a switch having an input and output stage, wherein PNP and NPN transistors make up the two stages.

A telephone call was not attempted, as the examiner feels this restriction is complex and is more easier to convey on paper then over the phone.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Art Unit: 2858

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.
